

The World's Best Medicines! Who Discovered Them, The People?

S. B. HARTMAN, M. D.
Columbus, Ohio.

I am manufacturing five different remedies, which are supplied to the regular drug trade, for use in the home. In my writings I rarely speak of but one of these remedies, Peruna, but there are four others which I am continually prescribing.

There is, first, Manalin, which is an up-to-date laxative. Pleasant to take. If the children do not cry for it, at least they do not object to it. As a matter of fact, I know one child that actually cries for it, every time he sees the bottle. Manalin is, of course, useful in all cases where a laxative is needed. Biliousness or constipation. Always at the beginning of an acute disease a full dose of Manalin is to be advised. It can be given to the youngest baby and is perfectly effective for older people. It is not drastic. Produces very nearly a natural movement of the bowels.

Then I also have the Manalin Tablets, which are similar in composition to the fluid Manalin. In tablet form, they are more convenient for some people. I believe them to be the best laxative tablet in the market. They are certainly made of the very best material, and constitute a safe, convenient and effective laxative.

Then there is the Lacupia, a blood remedy. This remedy I regard as an alternative of first-class quality in every particular. It is strictly vegetable, free from the usual mineral poisons that are used in alternative remedies. It is specifically a blood medicine. Sores of all sorts, blood contaminations of every kind, are treated with Lacupia. If you have a running sore, external or internal, your blood is contaminated, by infection or otherwise, Lacupia, taken according to the directions on the bottle, is sure to produce beneficial results. In most cases it can be relied upon to entirely eradicate the trouble. In any case where it seems to fail, a letter to me will be given prompt attention and I will endeavor to discover why a complete cure has not been experienced.

The Peruna I am speaking of so frequently I need not describe at length.

It is my old-time catarrh remedy with a laxative element added. As it stands today, it is without a rival as a tonic laxative. Applicable to all cases of catarrh, whether the catarrh is located in the head, nose, throat, or whether in the stomach, bowels or lower organs, or in the larynx, bronchial tubes or lungs, or whether in the kidneys or other pelvic organs. In all cases of catarrh, Peruna is my remedy.

Besides the Peruna I am manufacturing Peruna Tablets. The Peruna Tablets contain essentially the same ingredients as the fluid Peruna. In some cases it is more convenient for a patient to be able to carry tablets in the pocket. They have been manufactured on purpose to meet such cases. I manufacture the Peruna Tablet in my own laboratory, the same as the Manalin Tablets, and I can guarantee them to be perfectly pure, free from all objectionable materials, and in a condition to be readily absorbed by the stomach.

Yes, I have five remedies. First, the Peruna and the Peruna Tablets. Second, the Manalin and the Manalin Tablets, manufactured in my own laboratory, and let's. Third, the Lacupia. These are I can personally vouch for their purity and effectiveness.

It seems to me that any household provided with Peruna, Manalin and Lacupia would be ready to meet most of the ailments to which the human family is subject. Surely there are no better remedies to be obtained for the purposes for which I recommend them. There are no remedies that can excel them in composition or pharmaceutical skill. The material used in them all is the best and purest. No. 52—Adv.

CABOT.

Death of Isaac A. Hills, Former Resident, Occurred in Leominster, Mass.

Isaac A. Hills died quite suddenly at Leominster, Mass., February 10. He was born in Marshfield, December 28, 1846, and was one of a family of seven children of Calvin and Sarah Hills. He was a resident of this town for a number of years, a respected and worthy citizen, honest in all his dealings and one to be trusted. He obtained his education in the district schools, teaching in this and adjoining towns, holding the office of school superintendent. In November, 1873, he was married to Miss Nellie Marsh, a respected and esteemed young lady and only daughter of James and Lydia Marsh. Two little girls came to bless their home and a happy future seemed in store for them, but sorrow came in a few years, when diphtheria fastened its hold on these two little girls, aged 9 and 4, death claiming them but a few hours apart. When the first one died the mother yielded in meek submission, praying that the other be spared so her arms would not be empty. The strain was too great, causing brain fever, and in eight days the mother and two little ones were laid side by side in the village cemetery, leaving the grief-stricken father alone. He bore this great affliction with Christian patience and has lived an exemplary Christian life. In a few years he went away from this town and for 30 years past has lived in Leominster. About a year ago his health began to fail and a few days previous to his decease he entered a hospital for treatment. The shock to his system proved too great and he passed away February 10. His remains were brought here for burial and the funeral service was held in the Congregational church. He leaves a brother, H. M. Hills, and one niece, Mrs. Bert Smith.

The L. O. G. T. union held here last Saturday was well attended. The afternoon session was called to order by Chief Templar Chester Walker, a fine and interesting program being carried out, which consisted of singing and recitations by the juvenile temple. Much credit is due their superintendent, Miss Phyllis Webster. A solid gold L. O. G. T. pin was presented E. P. Smith by Miss Lillian Lance, in behalf of the juvenile temple. Mr. Smith was very genuinely as well as agreeably surprised. He said he was accustomed to say too much but this was one of the times when he could not say anything but to simply extend his heartfelt thanks for their kindness.

At the evening session, Rev. C. B. Atwood gave an address. There were several recitations and songs. Music was furnished by the high school orchestra, who did ample justice to themselves and showed good training. Several from North Montpelier and Calais were present. Resolutions were read on the death of Grace Wheeler, one of the juveniles, and the charter draped in black.

Sidney Currier of Danville visited his brother, George, a few days recently. Mrs. Susie Walbridge is spending a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Farrington, in Chelsea.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Myers of Post Mills were guests over Sunday at their son's, Walter.

E. D. Waldo found a strange looking fowl floundering in the snow back of his barn a few days ago. He caught the bird, which showed fight, but could not tell its name. He presented it to Rev. C. B. Atwood. It has since been pronounced a grebe.

John Warren was called to Burlington Monday to see his wife in Mary Fletcher hospital, who was very low. At last reports she had revived somewhat and faint hopes were entertained for her recovery.

Mrs. Christy of Hardwick has been assisting at housework at E. P. Walbridge's the past two weeks.

Mrs. Ernest Smith has returned from Mary Fletcher hospital, somewhat improved in health.

Several from here attended Masonic meeting at Hardwick a few evenings ago. Cecil Foster was a business visitor in Montpelier Wednesday.

Mrs. Millicent McIntyre and son, Kenneth, have gone to Hardwick for a few days' stay, previous to going to Boston for spring millinery.

John McLean is working for George Jackson.

John Cook of St. Johnsbury was in town Sunday.

Leon Perkins of Woodbury visited his mother, Mrs. E. C. Kittredge, recently. M. S. Hutchins of Stannard was a business visitor in town recently.

Mrs. Hattie Foster is having the grip.

Schenck's Cure for Consumption

contains no narcotics. It has been so successfully used, for more than seventy years, in the treatment of consumption, coughs, colds, hoarseness, sore throat and bronchial affections, because its effect is fundamental—not local in its action. It strikes at the root of the disorder—building up, healing up, restraining waste, restoring normal conditions. Sold everywhere—50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. Send for our free book on the lungs, the liver, the stomach, pulmonary consumption, dyspepsia and liver complaint, and their treatment.
